

Coming from the perspective of a Flight Attendant....I feel it would be a HUGE MISTAKE to allow passengers to start using they're cell phones in flight....for many reasons actually; however, the most important is it could give yet another weapon into the hands of terrorist by allowing them to communicate w/others on the ground.